UTAH DAIRY COUNCIL

THE CORPORATE FONTS AND TYPOGRAPHY

THE FULL LOGOTYPE

The Dairy Council of Utah & Nevada Masterbrand or Corporate Logo comprises two elements, the logo symbol and logo type. The Logo Symbol is a powerful image evoking the culture of design services - the connection between the strength of communication and the different points that influence.

It has a particular relationship with the Dairy Council of Utah & Nevada name.

The Logo Type has been carefully chosen for its modern and yet refined, highly legible style, which has been further enhanced by the use of upper case letters. The typeface is Norwester with Airo and has also been chosen to compliment and balance perfectly with the logo symbol of the dairy cow - a nod to the original logo which focused on dairy products within a circle.

The corporate logo is presented through the use of color as well as shape and form. The two corporate colours are Yellow and Grey. It is a fresh and appealing blend of colours chosen for their strong combination - modern - classic - timeless.

The Colors have been selected according to international standards as shown below and are easily implemented.

1) The Full Logo

Carefully chosen for its modern and yet refined, highly legible style, which has been further enhanced by the use of upper case letters in grey tone of the modern corporate color. The text that is used here is Norwester with Airo.

2) The Logo Symbol

Symbol of a power full element evoking the culture of dairy services and a combination of both corporate colors and product color/ meaning subtle use of negative space.

3) The Logo Dark Version

will be used when the background color is light colored.

4) The Logo Light Version

will be used when the background color is dark colored.

Utah thrives more economically without enough economic diversification, connections to communities around the country, and improved resilience to natural disasters, and increased ability to rely on local energy and food.	We do not implement strategies to address a future of the future. Individually, business, cities, counties, and other groups work separately to address their own interests.	Utah makes targeted investments and collective efforts to keep the economy and quality of life strong, without making significant changes or large investments.	Utah continues along what we're doing now. Our actions are the same as those in recent years. However, the outcomes of our decisions may not be the same as today because of growth and changing circumstances.	Utah makes their impact on the environment, conserve resources, and focus on improving both environmental and community health.

Air Quality in Utah	6	What are our goals?	12
Utah's Values for Air Quality	22	Scenarios	23
Clean Air Action Team	20	Summary of Survey Results	31

Though cars will get cleaner, the number of Utah homes and businesses will nearly double by 2050. These area sources will become the dominant source of air pollutants, growing until they dwarf vehicle emissions. Improving the energy efficiency and lowering the emissions of both old and new buildings (either voluntarily or through new air quality, energy, or construction standards) is crucial if Utah is to meet health standards over the long term.

Cleaner cars and the SP will remove substantial amounts of PM₁₀ and other monitored emissions from the air by 2050. However alone they will not bring us into compliance with federal air standards in 2050, and will be counter-balanced by population growth. In short, we will continue to see red air quality days through 2050, and the detrimental impacts on our health and economy that come with them.

The air has gotten significantly cleaner in the past 30+ years, and will continue to improve. These recent advances have not altered the determination of Utahns to clean the air. Participants in Trivium Utah's 2015 "Your Utah, Your Future" Survey rated air quality as one of their top 3 concerns for the state looking ahead, consistent with the random sample survey of Utahns conducted in conjunction with the online web tool.

REAL BUSINESS IMPACT

The Incentive Research Foundation released a study in 2010 following the steps that an organization took to ensure that they received a return on their investment; they successfully merged acquired organizations into their company, and successfully merged their incentive programs.

Incentive trips, meetings and events account for 15% of all travel spending, which creates 2.4 million jobs, $240 billion in spending and $39 billion in tax revenue, according to the U.S. Travel Association. Incentive travel generates about $13 billion a year, according to the Incentive Research Foundation.
